I trust this Mine Recap finds you refreshed from the holidays and ready to jump into what I believe will be a promising year for our industry.

But before we close the door on 2024, it's important to reflect on the remarkable accomplishments of the last 12 months and, to help do so, I am pleased to share the NMA's 2024 Annual Report.

It shows how we've evolved as an industry and grown as an association. With that growth and change has come a stronger and more diverse chorus of voices in support of mining, covering a wider range of commodities across all stages of mining, types of equipment and forms of support services than ever before.

What I hope you will note in reviewing its contents is how our strategy drove progress on many of your priority issues, effectively addressed significant challenges and put us in a positive position to engage aggressively and productively with the new Congress and new administration.

Happy New Year and I look forward to continuing to partner with you in 2025.
